- (3) To assure that patrons of all ages are able to access Internet sites that have been mistakenly blocked, the library will provide a method by which patrons can request that such sites be unblocked and staff will address the request in a timely manner.
- (4) The library, having installed and enforced the operation of a TPM in compliance with CIPA, will have no liability for damages related to the operation of, or failure of, the filtering software, or for its circumvention by users.
- vi) The Culbertson Public Library upholds the right of confidentiality and privacy for all library users. In order to protect the privacy of the user and the interests of other library patrons, the Library will manage access to the Internet by the use of privacy screens, judicious placement of the terminals, or other appropriate means.
- vii) Library staff cannot be responsible for providing in-depth training on the Internet or other computer functions. However, authorized staff will do its best to introduce to the computer users the basics of the Internet or other in-house computer programs and to answer simple questions. Because of library staff schedules, computer or Internet trained staff may not always be available.

b) Responsibilities of Computer Users

- i) Library computers and/or the Internet may not be used by anyone for illegal activity or to access illegal materials.
- ii) Users who encounter behavior from others that violates library policy should report it to library staff. Library employees are authorized to take prompt and appropriate actions to enforce the Rules of Conduct, and/or to prohibit use by persons who fail to comply with the Internet Acceptable Use Policy as stated or implied herein.
- iii) Parents (including legal guardians), not the Library or its staff, are responsible for the Internet information selected and/or accessed by their children. Parents and only parents may restrict their children, and only their children, from access to Internet resources available through the Library.
 - (1) Parents, if they have concerns about what is accessible on the Internet, are encouraged to supervise in person their child's Internet sessions.
 - (2) Parents may choose to deny their child's access to the Internet, by not signing the Internet Agreement Form. or may choose to do nothing, which places the responsibility for Internet choices with their child.
- iv) Library staff will not supervise Internet sessions of any patron, regardless of age. Patrons must exercise caution when using the Internet to avoid unauthorized disclosure, use, and dissemination of personal identification information. Parents should caution their minor children against sharing personal facts on the Internet. Internet users should remember to be good online consumers. As with print information, consider the source, date, and
