

Camping Lanterns

These super-safe lanterns will help a child light the way on their next adventure!

You will need:

- Clean, empty plastic jars with lids (recycled peanut butter or mayonnaise jars work well)
- Art Tissue Paper (red, orange and yellow)
- Safety Scissors
- Glue Sticks
- Puffy Pipe Stems
- Adhesive tape
- Drill or screwdriver (for adult use only)
- Battery-operated tea lights

= Pipe Stems = pipe cleaners

Before you begin:

Have adult drill or poke two small holes in the top of opposite sides of the plastic jar lids. These will be the holes through to insert the pipe stems to create a “handle” for the lanterns.

Directions

1. Everyone should have a plastic jar and a lid; a few pieces of red, orange and yellow tissue paper; and a pair of scissors.
2. Cut tissue paper into triangles of various sizes to create flames.
3. Use the glue sticks to line the bottom two-thirds of the outside of the jar with the flames.
4. Select a pipe stem and thread each end through the holes in the lid of the jar, and then Tape the ends of the pipe stem securely to the inside of the lid. The pipe stem will serve as the handle of the lantern.
5. Secure the bottom of one battery-operated tea light to the inside bottom of each jar with a loop of tape.
6. Screw the lids onto the jars to complete the camping lanterns!
