CLASS HISTORY

The 1959 Freshman Class at North Loup consisted of Roger Williams, Dale Huebner, Larry Mulligan, Betty Jorgensen, Laura Craft, Jerry Waller, Glen Sawyer, Lynda Hawkes, Harland Boyce, Anna Fenton and Delores Burson, and our sponsor was Harold Dawson.

The sophomore class of the newly merged

North Loup-Scotia High School was joined by Cheryl Cook, Richard Savage and Kent Dowse. We lost Barbara Hamsa, Judy Grantham, Delores Burson, Harland Boyce and Glen Sawyer. Our sponsor this year was Mrs. Delores DeJonge.

During our junior year at NL-S we gained Mary Ellen Scott and lost Lynda Hawkes. Our sponsors were Mrs. Madge Buehler and Rolland Essman. The big event this year was our Jr.-Sr. Banquet and Prom.

Our 1962 graduating class consists of 32 members. We lost Mary Ellen Scott and gained Roberta Clarke. Our sponsors were Fred Esser and Lee De Jonge. Sneak Day and many other events highlighted our senior year at North Loup-Scotia High School.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of '62, being of sound mind and body on this the 24th day of May of the year of our Lord 1962, do hereby declare this our last will and testament:

To the Faculty we leave the memory of a well-behaved, studious, ambitious, co-operative, nice looking, and smart class. We know they will miss us and be using us as good examples in their future years of teaching.

To the Freshmen we leave co-operative attitude during classes and extra activities including Sneak Day, etc., etc.

To the Sophomores we leave our ability to cheat without getting caught. We know that they won't get anywhere without it.

To the Juniors we leave our most valued possessions:

I, Dennis (Pee Wee) Bennett, will my ability to write winning essays to Van Smith. Dennis says there's a girl in North Loup who can help you.

I, Mary (M. W.) Bredthauer, will my 4 o'clock hours and my three-day weekends in Lincoln to Ida Jensen. Don't forget to see the Capitol Building.

I, Richard (Brains) Bremer, will my gravity shoes to Marlys Hickman so she can get to class in a hurry.

I, Leonard (Lover) Burton, will the hill to Norma Polinoski and Rollie Davis because something like that shouldn't be wasted.

I, Joan (Joanie) Cargill, will my ability to tumble to Yvonne Dierberger. Don't hurt your neck, Yvonne!

I, Roberta (Bertie) Clarke, will the Main Street in North Loup to Dean Everett. Keep the windows fogged over, Dean.

I, Cheryl (Cookie) Cook, will my Pep Club authority to Bob Pearson. Maybe with the help of your Night Crawlers you can get everyone to attend all those tournament games.

I, Laura (Frenchie) Craft, will my way of strolling down the aisles to Pam Sixel. The corners of the desks are getting very sharp!

I, Kent (Yukon) Dowse, will my physique to Floyd Whiting. Don't let anyone push you around, Floyd.

I, Ron (Zeke) Jensen, will my gift of goose calling to Jerry Stine so he can keep all the birds in the family.

I, Dallas (Dal) Doncheski, will my ability to pass tests to Brice Severance. Study more than Dallas did.

I, Anna (Annie) Fenton, will my false teeth to Janie Burrows so she'll have an extra pair in case she swallows hers.

I, Dale (Walter) Huebner, will my glow-in-the-dark socks to Erma Poss so she won't get lost while walking home on dark nights.

I, Janet (Jan) Jess, will my ability to write letters and send Christmas presents to Sheila Jeffres. Don't let them get you for too much postage.

I, Carol (Legs) Johnson, will my ability to jump to Yvonne Jensen. Don't hit your head on the net, Yvonne, Carol says it's very painful.

I, Betty (Slugger) Jorgensen, will my wine cellar to Bob Whalen. It works better with a straw than a funnel.

I, Gary (Grace) Klein, will my vocal ability to Martha Babcock. Hang in there. You'll make it one of these days, Martha!

I, Wilber (Tiny) Medbery, will my eating habits to Mary Karre. Keep those hot lunch programs from going broke, Mary.

I, Teddi (Thedora) Meyer, will my new, blue slip to Roger Johnson. Maybe you can find the owner, Rog.

I, Ron (Ronnie) Moravec, will my hand-holding ability to Audrey Keep. Keep trying, Audrey, you'll make it out some day even if you have to crawl.

I, Larry (Runt) Mulligan, will my extraordinary ability to get along in physics and adv. math to Clyde Leach. Try being a girl. Sometimes it helps!

I, Steve (Elmer) Reeves, will my forwardness to Eleanor Bennett. Keep that Cotesfield line humming, Eleanor!

I, Richard (Sparrow) Savage, will my masculinity to Dave Weeks so he can get a better time in the mile.

I, Larry (Smitty) Smith, will my deep masculine voice to Judy Johnson so she can lead yells better and louder!

I, Roy (Tex) Stam, will my cowboy hat to Betty Dwinell. You can pick the chaps up at a later date.

We, David (Dave) Stanger and Ray (Pat) Patrick will our track abilities to David Scott so he won't have to skip school in order to attend track meets!

I, Galen (Whip) Tuma, will my love to Diana Wells!

I, Doris (Dori) Vance, will my card parties to Darlene Peterson so she can keep busy on weekends next year!

We, Jerry (Hunk) Waller and Roger (Rog)

Williams, will our respect for the dead to Leonard Williams. Don't go to too many funerals!

I, Barb (Fanny) Peterson, will honorable 185 pound, blue eyed, dark short haired, 5' 11¼" tall, Ford driver, Cotesfield star, senior to Val Sims. Guess Who????

CLASS PROPHECY

In the year of 1982 we find Mr. and Mrs. De Jonge and family of wee ones returning from the land of Kasa Boo Boo where Mr. De Jonge has been superintendent of the Kasa Boo Boo Public Schools for the past 15 years.

He stops off at Hawaii where his wife purchases a grass skirt from Roger Williams. This business has made Rog a million dollars. We find Joan Cargill, his wife, now very famous for modeling his grass skirts. The De Jonges also find Gary Klein, our famous State Farmer, cultivating coconut trees. Gary tells us that these trees will be plucked by Leonard Burton and all the little Burtons.

As they journey onward by boat they haul on board a hitchhiker who happens to be David Stanger with his native friend. They were eloping across the ocean in their coconut shell boat.

All of a sudden they hear a loud pop and see Richard Bremer slicing down through the atmosphere, home from an astronomer's holiday. He has with him a load of very tasty green cheese from the moon. After pulling him aboard, they journey on for about three hours.

Suddenly they are in the midst of a squall and after several hours they find themselves high on a reef on the coast of Saudi Arabia. They are welcomed by Zeke Jensen and his prize camel herd famed for racing in the Kentucky Dashes. Zeke takes the De Jonges on a tour to the Sultan's Palace where we find the Sultan, Steve Reeves, eager to introduce his harem of 900 beautiful Egyptian women. His assistant a-sultant Dallas Doncheski is busily at work. The chief cook and bottle-washer is the one and only great homemaker, Anna (Fenton) Bennett. She decided on this career when she discovered she couldn't cook any American dishes. We buy our lunch ticket from Dennis Bennett and enjoy a lovely dinner. After the meal we are entertained by one of the Sultan's Terpsichoreans, Laura Craft. She says she got her training in between acts at the Senior class play.

Next Mr. and Mrs. De Jonge and wee ones hop aboard a fast jetliner. As they climb aboard, they are greeted by head stewardess Barbara Peterson. She gave up her career in nursing so she could keep track of pilot Ray Patrick.

They stopped in sunny Spain to take a tour of the wineries and there they see Betty Jorgensen in the vat stomping grapes.

Before long, they find themselves landing in Alaska. They hail a taxi and head for downtown Juneau. A large sign catches their eyes. It reads "Dowse Igloo Construction Co." After chatting with Kent, we find the igloo business really booming. His wife, the former Teddi, is his very efficient bookkeeper.

On the nearest street corner, they find Cheryl Cook selling her snow cones. She claims that business is lagging, but is bound to pick up during the tourist season.

Mr. and Mrs. De Jonge are then honored to meet Dale Huebner, U. S. Ambassador to Russia. With him is his secretary, Roberta Clarke. They are here on a good will tour of the Northern Continent.

When entering New York they spy none other than Richard (sparrow-alias beak) Savage sitting on top of the Statue of Liberty looking for his pet whooping cranes.

Later on in the day they attend the Olympic races. Coming in second place is Wilber Medbery. They didn't have a chance to talk to him because he had to get back to his fumigating business.

On Sunday afternoon they attend a pro football game at the Yankee Stadium, where they see Roy Stam playing right tackle.

Later on that night they go to the Madison Square Garden and see Carol Johnson on the "Clods All-American Volleyball Team."

They decided they better head for home now, so they boarded their swift jet again and headed for NL-S for the World's Fair. As they fly over the North Loup River Valley, they see Larry Smith herding his hogs to the World's Fair where he will enter them in the greased pig contest.

They make a smooth landing at the North Loup-Scotia Airport, where they are greeted by Mayor Doris Vance, who won the election by stuffing the ballot boxes. Mayor Vance agrees to take them on a tour, but first they decide to stop at the postoffice to drop a card to Fred Esser, who has been the principal at the Kasa Boo Boo public school for the past 15 years. At the postoffice they see Janet Jess licking stamps (postage) and wrapping Christmas presents. She says she got that habit while in high school and she couldn't break it.

They journey on and a big sign catches their eye. "MDW Inc." They find that this tire factory is in the capable hands of Jerry Waller and Larry Mulligan, who each year around May 5 take off and go fishing to satisfy an old desire in their high school days.

We find Mary Bredthauer in the wee hours of the morning inching around the World's Fair watching for burglars. She explained to us that she's the night watchman. She's a natural for this job because she always kept such late hours during her high school years. While walking with Mary, we ran into Ron Moravec and Galen Tuma. They were winners of the greased pig contest at the fair. They gained their talent for this unusual sport during high school by hanging on to a couple of junior girls during high school.

As the De Jonges get ready to return to Kasa Boo Boo they realize that they have seen all the members of the 1962 graduating class of the North Loup-Scotia High School.

SENIOR SNEAK DAY

On April 17, 1962, thirty wide awake seniors and their sleepy-eyed sponsors, Mr. DeJonge and Mr. Eriksen, left for Omaha at 4:00 a.m. Our first stop was Shelby where we ate breakfast. Heading on toward Omaha, we next stopped at Boys Town. In Omaha we were guests at Kitty Clover Manufacturing Co., Omaha World Herald, Union Pacific Museum and Brandeis. The class went bowling in the afternoon. In the evening we attended the Cooper's Cinerama "Seven Wonders of the World." We enjoyed a buffet dinner at Fireside before returning home after a very pleasant and eventful twenty-four hours.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

This year's Junior-Senior Banquet was done in a beautiful Hawaiian setting. The gym was lavishly decorated with palm trees, a little grass hut, and all the trimmings to give the impression that brought out the Hawaiian theme. The waiters were dressed like beachcombers, with tattered jeans, sailor hats, and loud print shirts. The waitresses were dressed like Hawaiian hula dancers with grass skirts, loud print tops, and a flower in their hair.
