Useful tools for the Accelerated Reading Program

Now that school has started, remember it's easy to locate AR books in the library. All of our AR books (and we have a lot of them) are color coded with colored dots placed on the spines. Coordinating charts (pictured below) matching the colored dots to the AR reading levels are located throughout the library. Students will only need to look at the chart, find the colored dot next to their reading level, then find the books with the same colored dots on the spine. It's that simple!

To find books in advance with AR levels, quiz numbers and availability, use our online catalog located on our website at www.tildenlibrary.org.

KIND NEBRASKANS: PERSONAL STORIES OF NEBRASKANS IN WORLD WAR II

Following the book discussion on Wed, Sept 22 join guest speaker Charlotte Endorf of Nebraska Humanities.

This program is based on research and interviews conducted by Kevin and Charlotte Endorf. A Newsweek poll in 2020 showed that less than half of adult Americans know how many Jews were killed in the Holocaust or how Hitler's nationalist Nazi party came to power in Germany ahead of WWII. These true stories of five Nebraskans who experienced WWII in different ways are told to inform today's audiences so that history is less likely to be repeated in the future.

Our own Library Matriarch Hella Bauer is one of the Nebraskans interviewed for this project. Don't miss her account along with other's personal stories in this important and informative presentation.

This program is free and open to the public. A light brunch will be served.

Humanities Nebraska (HN) provides major funding for this program. HN receives support from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Nebraska State Legislature, the Nebraska Cultural Endowment, and private donations. Sponsored by the Tilden Library Foundation.

choice for 2021

In the wake of Pearl Harbor, President Roosevelt called for the largest arms buildup in our nation's history. A shortage of steel, however, quickly slowed the program's momentum, and arms production fell dangerously behind schedule. The country needed scrap metal. Henry Doorly, publisher of the Omaha World-Herald, had the solution. Prairie Forge tells the story of the great Nebraska scrap drive of 1942 - a campaign that swept the nation and yielded five million tons of scrap metal, literally salvaging the war effort itself.

James J. Kimble chronicles Doorly's conception of a fierce competition pitting county against county, business against business, and, in schools across the state, class against class—inspiring Nebraskans to gather 67,000 tons of scrap metal in only three weeks. This astounding feat provided the template for a national drive. A tale of plowshares turned into arms, Prairie Forge gives the first full account of how home became home front for so many civilians.
