Sundries - Connections Corner 2021— Appreciation

The front page articles in the 2021 Western Suns focused on our connections. Whether local or global we can reflect on these connections with appreciation. The Western Library System is appreciative of the hard work and dedication of every library worker and library support systems. From the tax-payer who may or may not realize a portion of their money goes to libraries; to the ardent Friends and Foundation workers; to the children saying thank you after storytime; to students who see the school library as their haven; to the patron who brings in food for the staff during National Library Week; the libraries are used and supported in many ways.

It may be a simple thank you to let someone know they are appreciated. Sometimes, the situation calls for extra acknowledgment. Here are examples of how companies and libraries have shown appreciation for staff, patrons, Friends and Board and our sundry support system.

Staff

*Candy treats with “punny” tags tied around the treat.

Reese’s Peanut Butter Cups

We appREESEciate all that you do

There are many REESEons to thank you for your hard work

Have I REESEntly told you how much we appreciate you?

Extra Gum

Thank you for going the EXTRA mile.

Mints (any variety) Dove Chocolate Mints are a real treat

Thank you for your Achiev”mint”; Commit”mint”

Encourage”mint”; Invest”mint”; Involve”mint”

Starbursts

Bursting with appreciation for your STAR-studded effort

*Offering professional development opportunities for all staff. Reminder... the Western Library System has scholarship opportunities (see page 19) and the Nebraska Library Commission has a continuing education grant program, (see page 17)

Patrons

*Surprise and Delight Day

This worked well for a low-income library to celebrate their patrons. Simple food items (healthy selections along with the treats)

Activity books for children

December or January surprise and delight days can offer calendar bookmarks or pens

Hygiene items (sampler size) hand sanitizer, lip balm, etc.

Friends and Foundation

*Plant cubes—order or “grow your own. Plant Cubes from Baudville

Handwritten notes to any and all are always welcome!

Appreciation Quotes

“Appreciation is a wonderful thing. It makes what is excellent in others belong to us as well.”

Voltaire

“Appreciation can make a day, even change a life. Your willingness to put it all into words is all that is necessary.”

Margaret Cousins

“Being told you’re appreciated is one of the simplest and most uplifting things you can hear.”

Anonymous

“Encourage one another. Many times a word of praise or thanks or appreciation or cheer has kept people on the feet “

The About NaNoWriMo section on their website says:

NaNoWriMo is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit that believes in the transformational power of creativity. We provide the structure, community and encouragement to help people find their voices, achieve creative goals, and build new worlds-on and off the page.

In 2020:

*552,335 writers participated in the program including 97,439 students and educators in the Young Writers Program.

*906 volunteer Municipal Liaisons guided 671 regions on six continents.

*448 libraries, bookstores and community centers opened their doors to novelists through the Come and Write program.

*71,832 Campers tackled a writing project—novel or not at Camp NaNoWriMo.

*367,913 novels have been completed.

Hundreds of NaNoWriMo novels have been traditionally published. Including Water for Elephants, The Night Circus, Wool and Fangirl.

Each year, authors offer mentorships to the participants. Pep talks have been given by Gene Luen Yang, Roxane Gay, John Green and others.

At the end of every year, Amy Dickinson, the Ask Amy columnist, promotes a Book on Every Bed. The idea originally came from historian David McCollough, who remembered Christmas mornings as a child, when the very first thing he woke up to was a wrapped book at the base of his bed. Then his family would read together. Over the last ten years, Ms. Dickinson has been working with her literacy partner Children's Reading Connection. The campaign not only promotes books on every bed, it encourages schools, libraries and bookstores to donate books to families that might not have access to them. The goal of the initiative is for everyone - not just children—to have a good book on their beds any day of the year.

Jan Jolliffe compiled a delightful variety of suggestions for a Book on Every Bed. The list is on the following page.

LEAPing Into Fall at the Gering Public Library
By Christie Clarke, Youth Services Librarian

The 2021 fall session of the LEAP (Learn. Explore. Achieve. Play.) program started on September 28th with fifteen families signed up for the fun. LEAP is a free early childhood, literacy, STEM and school readiness program for children ages 3-5. It is held once per week in the evening and there are two eight-week sessions per year (fall and spring). LEAP was started in 2016 with a Youth Grant for Excellence from the Nebraska Library Commission, continued in 2017 with a Dollar General Literacy Grant, and expanded further in 2018 with the Tad Shuemaker Memorial. Each week Miss Christie shares a big book, a song and fingerplay, and leads a group activity that focuses on a STEM element. In week one this fall, the children participated in a science experiment called, "Do Oil and Water Mix?" The STEM focus in week two was engineering as the children built towers using spaghetti, cheerios and Play-Doh bases. After the group STEM activity, children and parents are encouraged to explore and play with other available materials. These activities and materials are specifically chosen to teach and foster early childhood literacy and school readiness skills.

Check Out Fun in a Backpack

In March of 2020 GPL started a special collection called Storytime Backpacks. Youth Services Librarian Christie Clarke first came up with the idea from observing literacy kits/backpacks at other libraries. She particularly found the ones at Alliance Public Library to be intriguing. Wanting to do something similar for the Gering Library, Clarke researched and talked to librarians from public libraries across the country who had a version of a literacy kit or backpack collection. Using that information coupled with her teaching background knowledge, Clarke created the Storytime Backpack collection with the intention of providing educational and fun themed activities for families of young children- just like having storytime at home.

This was particularly pertinent as it happened during COVID protocols when the library ceased in-person programming. Funded initially by the Friends of the Gering Library, six themed backpacks were created for checkout. The backpacks contain 5-7 books and educational materials and activities aimed at children ages 3-6. The backpacks also contain other items such as costumes, videos, toys, and games centered on a theme. However, no two backpacks are alike. They were so popular that in December of 2020 GPL used a Youth Grant for Excellence to add six more Storytime Backpacks to the collection, and there are plans to add more in the future. Clarke notes, "The most challenging part of curating the Storytime Backpack collection has been the management part of it all". She continues, "I based our system on how the Alliance Public Library manages theirs and tweaked it for us." The Storytime Backpacks are: Blast Off!, Bugs, Dinosaurs, Down on the Farm, Fun with Food, In the Garden, Music, Pets, Pirates, Princess & Prince, Superheroes, and Under the Sea. Here's an example list of what is inside one of the Backpacks:

Blast Off! (Space)

- Real meteorite kit
- Leap Frog computer w/ Space Science and Thinking Like a Scientist activity book
- DVD "The Magic School Bus Space Adventures
- 3D Planets in a Tube
- Melissa & Doug astronaut costume and role play set
- Seven books: National Geographic Readers: Meteors, Life in Space (An Astronaut's Life), Rufus Blasts Off!, Moon! Earth's Best Friend, Astronaut, My First Book of Planets: All about the Solar System for Kids, and Sara Seager: Planetary Scientist

Adult Learners at the Library; ALL for Fun!

Groups of people with developmental disabilities and their caregivers come in the library from time to time. "Of course, everyone is welcome to visit the library with no specific purpose, but we felt this was a missed opportunity. We could design a program of some sort for them if we knew when they were coming," said Public Services Librarian Sherry Preston. With the help of a friend, she was able to contact the Office of Human Development and develop a monthly program.

Gering Library's new program, Adult Learners at the Library or "ALL for Fun," is geared towards adults with developmental disabilities. The goal is to provide programs that are both educational and entertaining for this community. The Office of Human Development or "HUB" provides day services to around 50 adults in our community. They send around 15 different people each month to "ALL."

"I based the program on storytime, with books, speakers, learning activities, crafts and games, but on an adult level. Our last program was on apples, and the next one will be on spiders," said Preston. Future programs will incorporate seasonal activities and the interests of the audience.

The program is held once a month on a Wednesday. ALL for Fun is open to the public, but it is designed with this audience in mind. If you interested in attending this program, please contact Sherry at the Gering Library for more information at 308-436-7433.

Western Library System Board News

Matt McLaughlin, Western Library System Board Member and Scout Master, along with his troops planted 22 trees at Bayard City Park on September 22th. With the expertise of Todd Filipi from the North Platte Natural Resource District, the students learned how to properly plant trees. A newspaper story with pictures by Jeff Van Patten in the September 29th issue of the Star Herald, quoted Matt.

“When the city approached us about helping to plant some trees, we were more than happy to do so,” McLaughlin said. Planting trees is an important project that the kids learn from.

“I think the main thing that they get out of it is they have their thumbprint on it and they can say I planted that tree as a part of that project. In a small town, I think that’s just really important,” he said.

Troop 22 is looking to add more trees around town, McLaughlin said.

Todd Filipi, with the North Platte NRD, said it is important to teach the youth how to plant trees.

“I’m big on educating the youth in the next generation because they’re the ones who are going to carry things forward. Obviously, trees have a big value to us here in the western Panhandle as far as all the great benefits like wind protection, shade, shelter and all that other fun stuff. The kids are going to be the ones that carry this forward,” he said.

“We are reaching out to the kids and making them value things and additionally making them value their landscape, their towns. It’s an appreciation for what they have around. Another big part of this program is the diversity. That’s why some of these species are maybe a little different than what’s typically here. We have disease issues and some other stuff so diversity is key for us as we make sure if we do get one bug it doesn’t wipe out everything in town,” he said.

The trees are made possible by a grant, Filipi said.

“This is a grant we’ve been able to get since 2012. It’s mainly driven by the Environmental Trust, the statewide Arboretum and the Nebraska Forest Service. We’ve applied for that money and we’re able to bring it back to our communities within our districts. On average, we’ve put about 100 of these bigger trees back in every fall since 2012,” he said.

Two benefits from trees—check out 20 more from the TreePeople website.

<https://www.treepeople.org/22-benefits-of-trees/>

Trees absorb odors and pollutant gases (nitrogen oxides, ammonia, sulfur dioxide and ozone) and filter particulates out of the air by trapping them on their leaves and bark.

In one year an acre of mature trees can provide enough oxygen for 18 people.

Public Library Statistics Training (Bibliostat)

November 23: 2:00-4:00 (Mountain Time)

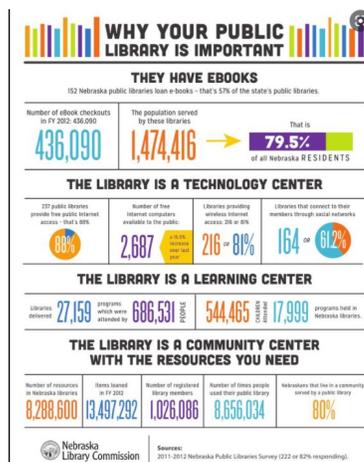

Sam Shaw will be presenting a how-to work session for the annual Public Library Statistics due in mid-February, 2022. The Nebraska Library Commission utilizes the Bibliostat Collect software to gather the information. No registration is required. Two (2) credit hours of continuing education will be granted. The session will be recorded to watch at a later time. Watch for additional promotional material and Zoom links later in early November.

Why Collect Public Library Statistics?

The Nebraska Library Commission collects statistical data from all the Nebraska public libraries. The information is reported to the Institute for Museum and Library Services (IMLS) in cooperation with the U.S. Census Bureau. The required collected data is used by national, state and local agencies for planning, evaluation and funding. Federal funding for library programs is given to the Nebraska Library Commission and other state library agencies through the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA). The IMLS administers the funds.

The purpose of the Library Services and Technology Act LSTA is documented in 20 (U.S.C. § 9121) Section 9141 "Grants to States" details how the states are to use the grant money.

1. Expand services for learning and access to information and educational resources in a variety of formats (including new and emerging technology), in all types of libraries, for individuals of all ages in order to support such individuals' needs for education, lifelong learning, workforce development, economic and business development, health information, critical thinking skills, digital literacy skills, and financial literacy and other types of literacy skills;
2. Establish or enhance electronic and other linkages and improved coordination among and between libraries and entities, as described in 20 U.S.C. § 9134(b)(6), for the purpose of improving the quality of and access to library and information services;
3. (A) Provide training and professional development, including continuing education, to enhance the skills of the current library workforce and leadership, and advance the delivery of library and information services; and (B) Enhance efforts to recruit future professionals, including those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds, to the field of library and information services;
4. Develop public and private partnerships with other agencies, tribes, and community-based organizations;
5. Target library services to individuals of diverse geographic, cultural, and socioeconomic backgrounds, to individuals with disabilities, and to individuals with limited functional literacy or information skills;
6. Target library and information services to persons having difficulty using a library and to underserved urban and rural communities, including children (from birth through age 17) from families with incomes below the poverty line (as defined by the Office of Management and Budget and revised annually in accordance with section 9902(2) of title 42) applicable to a family of the size involved;
7. Develop library services that provide all users access to information through local, State, regional, national, and international collaborations and networks; and
8. Carry out other activities consistent with the purposes set forth in 20 U.S.C. § 9121, as described in the State library administrative agency's plan.

Penguin Random House and the Association for Rural and Small Libraries Grant

Penguin Random House and The Association for Rural and Small Libraries (ARSL) announced in a combined press release the news concerning a rolling grant program to recognize rural, small and tribal libraries that support underserved communities in the U.S. and U.S. territories.

The program will award grants of up to $2,500 to libraries that demonstrate a true need. Grants are not limited to literacy and may be used for everything from library programming and books to resources like hotspots that help community members access important information. In-kind donations will also be considered.

Penguin Random House and ARSL have worked together to ensure the application process is simple and straightforward to remove as many barriers to applying for a grant as possible. For the award application and more information about the program, please visit the info page: <https://www.arsl.org/prh-grant>.

Please forward any questions about the application process to the ARSL office at info@arsl.org.
Project Reports are Due February 7, 2023.

Humanities Grants for Libraries

American Rescue Plan: Humanities Grants for Libraries is a grantmaking program to deliver relief to libraries recovering from the coronavirus pandemic.

With funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) through the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021, the American Library Association (ALA) will distribute $2 million in American Rescue Plan (ARP) funding to help anchor libraries as strong humanities institutions as they emerge and rebuild from the pandemic. The purpose of this emergency relief program is to assist libraries that have been adversely affected by the pandemic and require support to restore and sustain their core activities. ALA will distribute up to 200 ARP grants of $10,000 each to libraries, with an emphasis on reaching libraries in historically underserved and/or rural communities. Libraries will be selected through a competitive, peer-reviewed application process. Here are the Project guidelines.

The Celebration of Nebraska Books is sponsored by Nebraska Center for the Book and the Nebraska Library Commission, with support from History Nebraska's Nebraska History Museum. Humanities Nebraska provides support for One Book One Nebraska. The Nebraska Center for the Book is housed at the Nebraska Library Commission and brings together the state's readers, writers, booksellers, librarians, publishers, printers, educators, and scholars to build the community of the book, supporting programs to celebrate and stimulate public interest in books, reading, and the written word. The Nebraska Center for the Book is supported by the national Center for the Book in the Library of Congress and the Nebraska Library Commission.

As the state library agency, the Nebraska Library Commission is an advocate for the library and information needs of all Nebraskans. The mission of the Library Commission is statewide promotion, development, and coordination of library and information services, "bringing together people and information."

2022 One Book One Nebraska Bones of Paradise

During 2022, join fellow Nebraskans by reading and discussing The Bones of Paradise: A Novel (William Morrow, 2016). The novel was written by Jonis Agee, a native Nebraskan and was selected for the 2022 One Book One Nebraska.

The press release announcing the selection stated “The Bones of Paradise is a multigenerational family saga set in the unforgiving Nebraska Sand Hills in the years following the massacre at Wounded Knee—it is an ambitious tale of history, vengeance, race, guilt, betrayal, family, and belonging, filled with a vivid cast of characters shaped by violence, love, and a desperate loyalty to the land. The One Book One Nebraska selection committee enjoyed the intricate plot development and well developed characters. They felt that the novel was a compelling read and contained a variety of themes that would engage discussion on a number of topics. Jonis Agee is an award-winning author of twelve books. Her awards include the John Gardner Fiction Award, the George Garrett Award, a National Endowment for the Arts grant in fiction, a Loft-McKnight Award, a Loft-McKnight Award of Distinction, and two Nebraska Book Awards. A native of Nebraska, Agee teaches at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln.

Libraries across Nebraska will join other literary and cultural organizations in planning book discussions, activities, and events that will encourage Nebraskans to read and discuss this book. Support materials to assist with local reading/discussion activities will be available after January 1, 2022 at <http://onebook.nebraska.gov>. Updates and activity listings will be posted on the One Book One Nebraska Facebook page at <http://www.facebook.com/onebookonenebraska>.

2022 will mark the eighteenth year of the One Book One Nebraska reading program, sponsored by the Nebraska Center for the Book. It encourages Nebraskans across the state to read and discuss one book, chosen from books written by Nebraska authors or that have a Nebraska theme or setting. The Nebraska Center for the Book invites recommendations for One Book One Nebraska book selection year-round at <http://centerforthebook.nebraska.gov/obon-nomination.asp>.

One Book One Nebraska is sponsored by Nebraska Center for the Book, Humanities Nebraska, and Nebraska Library Commission. The Nebraska Center for the Book brings together the state’s readers, writers, booksellers, librarians, publishers, printers, educators, and scholars to build the community of the book, supporting programs to celebrate and stimulate public interest in books, reading, and the written word. The Nebraska Center for the Book is housed at and supported by the Nebraska Library Commission.”

Bookkits to check out from the Western Library System will be available soon. The date will be provided in an e-mail.

The One Book One Nebraska for Kids and Teens will be announced at a later date.
