

Kilgore Memorial Library
Director's Report
Prepared for the March 21, 2019
York City Council meeting

1. The Elmer Baker display case is filled with a collection of book folding art from Kerri Naber. The Kent Bedient Gallery is filled with student artwork from York Middle School.
2. StoryWalk 2019 books are selected and being prepared to be delivered on the trail each month through the year. The March/April book is When the Wind Blows by David Barrow.
3. Story times for preschoolers continues with more than 30 children and a dozen caregivers in attendance. The Tuesday night event hosts 10 children and 8 adults. And Toddler Dance and Fun Time is has grown to 20 children and their caregivers.
4. The Friends of the Library hosted Lincoln author Joel Green at the library on March 5. Joel shared his research on Robber's Cave in Lincoln and had copies of his book available for those interested. The presentation was enjoyed by over thirty members of the community.
5. The special education classes from the York Public Schools continue to come to this library. There are two classes with more than twenty students attending each of the library workshops. These classes are enjoying books nominated for this year's Golden Sower award and will vote for their favorite title in April.
6. Library staff have been reading fun books during the semi-annual Read and Rec activity. Since partnering with the after school program at York Elementary, Boost, this event hosts more than 30 children each week.
7. The Library will have a booth at the Youth Involvement Fair on March 21 to promote activities planned at the library over the summer.
