

Kilgore Memorial Library
Director's Report
Prepared for the November 21, 2019
York City Council meeting

1. The Elmer Baker display case is filled with a display from Bob Burnham's Big Red collection. The Kent Bedient Gallery has a display of local artist, Clive Wiggins, drawings.
2. StoryWalk 2019 books are selected and being prepared to be delivered on the trail each month through the year. The current book is Stowaway in a Sleigh by C. Roger Mader.
3. Library Director, Deb Robertson, has received notice from the Nebraska Library Commission that her Level V certification has been renewed until November of 2022. To remain certified she will need to earn 45 hours of continuing education as allocated the state library.
4. Library staff Carol Baker and Deb Robertson along with Irene Duncan from the Friends of the Library represented the Library at Haunt at the Holthus. On October 31 the library hosted its annual Not So Scary Halloween party for preschoolers and toddlers. To end the day the library was also a stop on the Downtown Trick or Treat map for the older children after school.
5. James Tidei hosted a Trivia Night at the Library in October. The attendees and their host had a great time. This event will continue as part of our Winter/Spring programming lineup.
6. Carol Baker and Michaela Stuhr from the Community Center are co-hosting Read and Rec on Tuesdays during November. This event has partnered with the YES afterschool program to bring a full house to this event.
7. The Friends of the Library's Souper Soup Sale will take place at the library on Saturday, November 30. To date, 180 quarts of soup have been pledged and there will be more!

Respectfully submitted by,

Debora Robertson
