Kilgore Memorial Library Director's Report Prepared for the August 19, 2021 York City Council meeting

- 1. The Elmer Baker Display Case is filled with a summer collection of seashells and lakeside objects. The Kent Bedient Gallery is displaying a fun "eye-spy" college.
- 2. The Early Childhood Discovery Center continues to be a popular destination for families.
- 3. The Friends of the Library have delivered new books to each baby born at York County hospitals for years. The books are now part of a packet crated to promote reading through the 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten and the Early Childhood Discovery Center. Each folder contains reading logs, a bookmark, and notepad and of course a book!
- 4. The Summer Reading SMACKDOWN to see who reads more on highway 34 with Seward Memorial Library ended on July 29. The final tally was York 1,352 and Seward 1,385. We may have lost, but we had fun trying to win. Several patrons came in to enter the contest to "beat Seward." No matter what, they wanted to help York win!
- 5. Library staff members Carol Baker, Kat Karabel and Janey Due who are working on being certified are enrolled in the Collection Development class.
- 6. The Vision 2025 committee that grew from the Community Conversation hosted at the library continues to work toward finding the needs of the community that the library might use to create new levels of service to meet the identified needs. Small groups are working together on topics of Lifelong learning, Social services, Career paths and Technology/Innovation. The next meeting of the large group is scheduled for Tuesday, September 7 at 11:30.
- 7. The Music Garden installation has been delayed by shipping on two instruments and the benches have not arrived. Librarians from Crete and Geneva have visited to learn more about our project. We have invited York College to use the instruments as a unit in their Music Methods course for Education Majors and area High School percussion players will be invited to have concerts once the garden is installed. Oh yes, and everyone from toddlers to seniors will be welcome to make their own "special" music whenever they are at the library.
- 8. The Early Childhood Discovery Center received a thorough cleaning when the six staff from YPS arrived at the library during their community service event on August 9.

Respectfully submitted by,

Jebora Roberton
