WELCOME TO THE VERDIGRE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Welcome to the Verdigre Public Library. To better serve all library users, the Library Board of Trustees has established certain standards of acceptable behavior to ensure an environment conducive to library use. Library staff is charged with maintaining a clean, pleasant and safe atmosphere and building.

Mission Statement

The Verdigre Public Library believes it is essential to provide materials and services which will help area residents obtain information meeting their personal, educational, and professional needs.

Reviewed 11-2-21

Library Bill of Rights

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

5. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background or views of those contributing to their creation.
- II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.
- III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.
- IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.
- V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.
- VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Adopted June 18, 1948, by the ALA Council; amended February 2, 1961; amended June 28, 1967; amended January 23, 1980; inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 24, 1996.

The Freedom to Read Statement

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be “protected” against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters, values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society, individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties and deserves of all Americans their fullest support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

Adopted June 25, 1953, by the ALA Council and the AAP Freedom to Read Committee; amended January 28, 1972; January 16, 1991; July 12, 2000; June 30, 2004.

Freedom to View

The freedom to view, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore, we affirm these principles:

5. It is in the public interest to provide the broadest possible access to films and other audiovisual materials because they have proven to be among the most effective means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.

2. It is in the public interest to provide films and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
3. It is our professional responsibility to contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

VPL Community Needs Response (formerly Strategic Plan) 2017-2020

Community Need #1—The Village of Verdigre Board of Trustees (Village Board) wants to add an Economic Development component to what they do for Verdigre. Meanwhile the Verdigre Development Corporation (VDC) has a housing initiative underway.

Goal: Economic Development and Promotion of Local Businesses

Objective—The Library Director will compile (and maintain) a brochure of Verdigre area businesses that will be included in an Economic Development (Welcome) Packet for all newcomers and potential businesses. The Library can facilitate communication between the Village Board and VDC so housing resources are included in the packet.

Objective—The Library Director will become an administrator for the Village Website and help with updates. An online calendar feature could improve communication between town organizations. Related to housing, there could be links to information on properties for sale or rent. Kim Miller, business teacher, will be the website resource. Megan Hanefeldt, Knox Co. Economic Development Director, will be a housing resource.

Community Need #2—The Verdigre Improvement Club needs family-friendly events as part of the Kolach Days lineup and also wishes to promote Czech heritage.

Goal: Develop tourism

Objective—The Library will host an activity for kids and families on Friday afternoon or Saturday of Kolach Days (e.g. Lego Guy in 2017). If necessary, the Library will collaborate with the community for financial support.

Objective—The Library Director will maintain communication with the source of Czech translations for Verdigre businesses (which the Improvement Club hopes to eventually incorporate into Kolach Days). Vendula Veliskova of Prague, Czech Republic will be the resource.

Objective—The Library will host a barn quilt painting workshop with the option of Czech style motifs that the Library Director will have researched and/or designed. Marilyn Janovec and Susie Kelly of Niobrara will be the resources for teaching a workshop.

Community Need #3—Per the Destination Imagination Kids (from school year 2015-16), Verdigre needs a Teen/Senior Community Center. While the Library cannot be everything on the group's wish list, we can contribute to their goals by offering multi-generational programming.

Goal: Activities for all ages (low cost, convenient, high quality)

Objective—The Library will coordinate and host at least one workshop per year where elders can pass on specific skills to youth (e.g. needle crafts, wood working, cooking). Connie Church is our crochet resource; Cheryl Vesely would teach cooking and/or quilting.

Objective—The Library will coordinate and host at least one workshop per year where youth can pass on specific skills to elders (e.g. how to use Facebook or other technology).

Objective—The Library will try to create an event that promotes interactive storytelling between youth and elders.

Community Need #4—Verdigre has a need for educational programs having special significance for senior citizens. Our nursing home has found the general public reluctant to attend workshops on their premises.

Goal: Educational workshops on issues related to senior citizens

Objective—The Library will coordinate and host a workshop on estate planning, especially when farms are involved. Attorney Andrew Marshall will be our resource.

Objective—The Library will coordinate and host a workshop related to medicare (e.g. Part D enrollment) and/or elderly fraud. Bev Myers of the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging will be our resource.

The fact that a group is permitted to meet at the Library does not in any way constitute an endorsement of the group's policies or beliefs by the library staff or library board.

It is understood that library programming will have first priority in room use. There will be no charge for use of the library's meeting space during library hours. Any conduct that disturbs library users or staff or that hinders others from using the library or library materials is prohibited.

1. In the case of minor disruptions, the violating patron(s) will receive two warnings. At the third offense, the patron(s) must leave the building for the rest of the day. Examples of minor disruptions include, but are not limited to:
 - a. Messes made with food or drink

The Americans with Disabilities Act states: "Service animals are animals that are individually trained to perform tasks for people with disabilities such as guiding people who are blind, alerting people who are deaf, pulling wheelchairs, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, or performing other special tasks. Service animals are working animals, not pets....Businesses may ask if an animal is a service animal or ask what tasks the animal has been trained to perform, but cannot require special ID cards for the animal or ask about the person's disability."

Procedure for staff:

If a patron enters the library with an animal, staff is asked to first observe the pair to discern if the animal is a service animal (per the ADA guidelines cited in policy binder) or a pet. Service animals are welcome. If a pet, staff is asked to mention our no animal policy and remind the patron that pets are welcome to wait outside by the benches or back garden. If patron resists, staff will refer the matter to the director who will learn the story of the patron and animal and determine a solution.

Unattended Children Policy

Children of all ages are encouraged to use the library for homework, recreational reading, and program attendance. Library staff are not expected to assume responsibility for the care of unsupervised children in the library.

Therefore, it is library policy that any child under the age of 9 must be accompanied by a parent or designated responsible person age 14 or older . Also, if the young child is attending a library program, the parent/caregiver must remain in the library throughout the program.

Any child, whether with parents or not, who is being continually disruptive will be given a warning to settle down or risk being asked to leave the library. After two warnings, the child will be asked to leave the library. If the child needs to contact a parent, s/he may do so and then wait with a staff person until the parent arrives.

Collection Development Policy

The purpose of the Verdigre Public Library is to provide all individuals in the community with carefully selected books and other materials to aid the individual in the pursuit of education, information, research, pleasure, and the creative use of leisure time.

Because of the volume of publishing, as well as the limitations of budget and space, the library must have selection policy with which to meet community interests and needs.

The collection development policy is used by the library staff in the selection of materials and serves to acquaint the general public with the principles of selection.

The Library Bill of Rights and The Freedom to Read Statement has been endorsed by the Public Library Board of Trustees and are integral parts of the policy. The Library Bill of Rights can be found on page 2 and The Freedom to Read Statement can be found on pages 3-5.

The collection development policy, like all other policies, will be reviewed and/or revised as the need arises.

Responsibility for Selection

The ultimate responsibility for selection of library materials rests with the library director who operates within the framework of the policies determined by the Verdigre Public Library Board of Trustees. This responsibility may be shared with other members of the library staff, however, because the director must be available to answer to the library board and the general public for actual selections made, the director has the authority to reject or select any item contrary to the recommendations of the staff.

Criteria for Selection

The main points considered in the selection of materials are: individual merit of each item, date of publication, popular appeal/demand, suitability of format to library circulation and use, existing library holdings, library materials budget, space constraints, patron requests, collection diversity, local significance of author/subject, relevance to interests/needs of Verdigre and physical condition of donated materials.

Weeding

An up-to-date, attractive and useful collection is maintained through a continual withdrawal and replacement process. Weeding is dependent upon current demand, usefulness, more recent acquisitions, and availability of newer editions. Other weeding criteria include: damaged/poor physical condition, duplicate copies, relevance to community, accuracy and timeliness of information, local interest, and availability elsewhere including other libraries and online

This ongoing process of weeding is the responsibility of the Library Director and is authorized by the Board of Trustees. Withdrawn materials are offered to the public for a free-will donation and are handled in a similar manner and under the same authority as donated materials.

Accreditation guidelines from the NLC request weeding the collection an average of 3% per year over a three-year period. Special collections are exempted.

Special Collections

The Verdigre Public Library's Special Collections consist of Czech books and materials, scrapbooks and other items of Verdigre history/memorabilia and all historical/genealogical-related material. These books may not be checked out.

Potential Problems or Challenges

The Verdigre Public Library recognizes that some materials are controversial and that any given item may offend some patrons. Selection of materials will not be made on the basis of anticipated approval or disapproval, but solely on the basis of the principles stated in this policy.

Responsibility for the reading of children rests with their parents or legal guardians. Selection of library materials will not be inhibited by the possibility that materials may come into the possession of children.

Library materials will not be marked or identified to show approval or disapproval of their contents, and no library material will be sequestered except to protect it from damage or theft.

Patrons requesting that materials be withdrawn from or restricted within the collection may complete a Request for Reconsideration of Library Resources form, which is found in the appendix.

Challenged Materials

Although materials are carefully selected, there can arise difference of opinion regarding suitable materials. Patrons requesting that material be withdrawn from or restricted within the collection may complete a Request for Reconsideration of Library Resources form (located in Appendix), which is available in the library. The inquiry will be placed on the agenda of the next regular meeting of the Public Library Board of Trustees.

Complaints

When a Patron or a Staff Member has a complaint, first go and report it to the Library Director. In the case that a Library Director is unable to resolve the matter in a reasonable amount of time the issue will then be brought to the Library Board. The Library Board will then decide what action will be appropriate.

Reviewed 12-7-21

Gifts, Memorials and Donations

The Verdigre Public Library encourages and appreciates gifts, memorials and donations.

The library accepts gifts of books and other materials with the understanding that they will be added to the collection only if appropriate and needed. If they are not needed because of duplication, condition, or dated information the director can dispose of them as he/she sees fit. The same criteria of selection, which are applied to purchase materials, are applied to gifts. Donations other than books will be labeled and offered back to original donors if the library wishes to remove those items from its collection.

Memorial gifts of books or money are also accepted with suitable acknowledgment placed in the book. Specific memorial items can be ordered for the library on request of a patron if the request meets the criteria established by the Library Board. The director will make materials selections if no specific materials are requested.

It is desirable for donors to consult with the library before making gifts or offering specific titles and the library retains the authority to accept or reject gifts.

By law, the library is not allowed to appraise the value of donated materials, though it can provide an acknowledgment of receipt of the items if requested by the donor.

Revised 2-3-20 Reviewed 12-7-21

Circulation Policy

Registration and Library Cards

All borrowers must be registered and have a library card number to borrow materials. There are no fees or geographic requirements for having a Verdigre Public Library card.

Library staff issues library card numbers. Patrons must provide name, address, phone number and guardian's name (for minors). Library materials cannot be checked out until a library number is issued.

Loan Periods

- Print books and audio books may be checked out for 4 weeks. One automatic renewal is granted by the ILS. At the discretion of librarians, materials may be kept longer.
- Movies may be checked out for 7 days with one automatic renewal.
- Music cds may be checked out for 4 weeks with one automatic renewal.
- Tech equipment may be checked out for 4 business days.
- Items from the Library of Things (ex. Sports kits, puzzles) may be checked out for 7-14 days.
- Reference books and special collections do not circulate. Upon request, some materials may be checked out overnight. Renewing reference or special collections materials is at the discretion of librarians.
- Interlibrary loans are due a week before the date indicated by the lending library.
- Newspapers and magazines do not circulate. A magazine exchange is available for patrons.

The director may establish the loan period for special collections, materials that are temporarily in great demand or materials added to the collection which are in a new format.

New patrons may check out up to 4 books and 2 movies at a time on a provisional basis. Established patrons may check out 8 books and 4 movies.

Reserves

Reserves may be placed by patrons either in person, via the online catalog, over the phone or by e-mail. Patrons will be notified by telephone when the materials are available. There is no charge to the patron for placing a reserve.

Fines and charges

Book overdue fines will be $.10 a day up to $5.00 per title. Videos overdue will be $.10 per day up to $5.00 per title. Audio overdue will be $.10 per day up to $5.00 per title.

The Library Board has set the maximum fine at $5.00 per title. Alternatives to paying fines may occasionally be offered by the Library Director or Library Board. For example, patrons are invited to work off fines by volunteering at the library.

Overdue Items

Librarians will check overdues weekly or occasionally and contact patrons by email or phone when materials are past due the original and automatic renewal dates. Librarians will contact this patron a second time, no sooner than one week after the first contact. If materials are still out, librarians will mail a letter telling the patron of the overdue library material and the fines incurred. If the patron does not respond the Library Board will decide on further action which may include notifying the Village Attorney.

Damaged materials

If materials are damaged and judged by librarians as unsuitable for the collection, the patron must pay the replacement cost. A notice of these charges will be sent to the borrower. Charges will include the cost to replace the library material, the fine, and the postage & handling.

If a video or audio is damaged or lost it will be the price of the video plus postage and handling. If the patron purchases a video or audio replacement the only charge will be the fine. This will be at the discretion of the Library Director.

Revised 12-7-21

Programming Policy

A program is a planned interaction between the library staff and the program participants for the purpose of promoting library materials, facilities or services, as well as offering the community an informational, entertaining, or cultural experience.

Programming includes such activities as story times, showing videos and activities, summer library programs for children, speakers for young adults and adults, book or author discussion groups, computer classes and MakerSpace workshops.

The Library Board, in conjunction with the Library Director, will establish a budget and goals for programming to facilitate the effective implementation of this service.

Emergency and Safety Procedures

Every effort will be made to keep Verdigre Public Library open to serve the public as scheduled. Whenever a situation arises that jeopardizes anyone's personal well-being, or necessitates building repairs, the library may be closed. Such situations could include, but are not limited to: fire, tornado, flood, pandemic, power failure, vandalism or extreme weather. Employees are asked to review emergency procedures each spring.

Fire

Do not under-estimate the potential danger to patrons or staff represented by a fire. At the first indication of smoke or flame, the librarians will investigate the situation to determine location and extent of the fire. If the fire can obviously be contained and extinguished quickly and safely, staff will proceed to do so. However, if there is any doubt about whether the fire can be controlled, staff and patrons should immediately call 911 and exit the building.

The time to think about fires is before they happen. Staff as well as patrons are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the location and use of fire extinguishers (3) in the building.

Tornado

In the event of a tornado watch or severe thunderstorm, patrons shall be sent home and librarian will close all blinds. Children must be picked up by a guardian. In the event of a tornado warning, all persons must gather in the library bathroom which has no windows and close the door. It would be safest to kneel or sit on floor, cover heads with arms and wait for the all-clear siren. The nearest basement is below the Village Office.

Flood

In the event of a flood anyone in the library must evacuate to west of 2nd St. (out of floodplain). Staff is asked to place sandbags at the base of both exterior doors. The closest second story is in Village Office.

Pandemic

A pandemic is an outbreak of a serious infectious disease for which there is no vaccine that occurs over a wide geographic area and affects an exceptionally high proportion of the population, ex. COVID-19, a novel coronavirus, in 2020-21. If there is a pandemic the library staff and board will be committed to continuing excellent library service while doing all they can to support the health of the community. The library will follow guidelines issued by the Center for Disease Control (cdc.gov), State of NE (nebraska.gov), North Central District Health Department (dhhs.ne.gov) and the Village of Verdigre (see library's copy of Pandemic Influenza Response Plan in disaster binder at circ desk). Recovery from a pandemic may be slow and it is important to ensure that core business activities of the library can be maintained for several weeks or months. Pandemic procedures are listed in VPL Disaster Plan binder.

Health Emergencies

Staff members should exercise caution when administering first aid of even a minor nature because of the safety of the injured individual and the potential liability of the staff member. Without specialized training it is not advisable for staff to undertake more than keeping the sick or injured patron comfortable and protected from needless disturbance until medical help can be obtained. Since each case is unique, staff members should use their own judgment to do what is prudent and reasonable.

Immediately call 911 for Rescue Squad or Police in the event of any serious problem.

No medication, including aspirin, should ever be dispensed to the public.

Responsibilities and Authorities of the Library Board

Refer to the Bylaws of the Verdigre Public library to provide basis and framework for the responsibilities and authority of the library board and individual trustees.

[Bylaws are rules governing the internal affairs of an organization. Every library board needs to have a set of bylaws, but they may differ to fit local situations. Bylaws should be updated at least every five years. Included in the bylaws should not only be the composition of the board, officer's responsibilities, and information regarding meetings and committees, etc., but also terms of office, number of reappointments allowed, action taken for frequent absences, and procedures for securing, appointing, and orientating new board members.]

The bylaws and policies may be amended by the majority vote of all members of the Board.
